Jennifer Tsukayama

Received her Masters of Fine Arts from New York University's Tisch School of the Arts, and her Bachelor of fine arts from George Mason University. She worked as part of the faculty of the dance Department in Arizona State University. She was the Founder and Artistic Director of Tsukayama Dance Collaborative (tdc). Tdc's credits include a wide spectrum of projects ranging from site specific works to those that integrate dance and technology. Such projects include: CellBytes (<http://isa.asu.edu/cellbytes/>), a dual-site performance and web casting project; a multi-media collaboration with architect/environmental designer Barbara Sandrisser for the International Society of Applied Aesthetics; and Paper Interiors, a collaboration between individuals in the ASU Institute for Studies in the Arts, and the Departments of Dance, Literature, and Biology. Was co-founder of the Murkofsky/Tsukayama Dance Theatre. MTDT has been selected to participate in numerous festivals and choreographic showings in and around New York City, such as the Downtown Arts Festival, Soundance choreographers Showcase, Dancing on the Hudson, and Symphony Space. Actually she is Co-Chair Governance Committee, Board of Trustees at The Center for Contemporary Arts in New Jersey.
